DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 3 depends from claim 2 but does not further limit claim 2. Claim 3 is identical to claim 2 except for claim 3 depends from claim 2 while claim 2 depends from claim 1.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Miess (6003623).

Art Unit: 3672

Looking mainly at figures 1-4 and 28, Miess discloses a PDC insert. The insert has a pedestal section 17 atop a plug section 11. A step 19 is defined between the plug and pedestal sections. As to claims 2 and 3, figure 3 shows the pedestal section having a circular cross-section. As to claims 4-6, Shoulder 18 is provided between the pedestal top and pedestal sidewall. Shoulder 19 is defined between the plug and step. Both shoulders are covered with PDC. As to claim 7, figure 28 shows the shoulders cutting the formation. As to claim 8, the pedestal section is slanted. As to claim 9, the pedestal section is a frustoconical-beveled surface.

Claims 1-6 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Hall et al (2002/0084112).

Hall discloses a PDC insert. As shown in figure 1, a plug section 11 has a pedestal 24 atop the plug section and a shoulder 24 is defined between the plug section and the pedestal section. As to claims 2 and 3, figure 2 shows the pedestal section having a circular cross-section. As to claims 4-6, shoulders 24 and the shoulder between the top of the pedestal section 26 and the side surface of the pedestal section are covered with PDC. As to claim 8, the pedestal side surface is slanted.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 3672

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claim 12 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Miess in view of Eyre et al (2002/0108790).

Miess (as described above) is considered to disclose all of the claimed features except for a bevel in the top. Eyre teaches forming bevels in the top surface for the purpose of additional hardfacing. It would have been considered obvious to form a bevel in the top face of Miess as taught by Eyre et al for the purpose of Eyre which is to enable additional hardfacing that results in extended use.

Art Unit: 3672

Claim 12 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hall et al in view of Eyre et al.

Hall (as described above) is considered to disclose all of the claimed features except for a bevel in the top. Eyre teaches forming bevels in the top surface for the purpose of additional hardfacing. It would have been considered obvious to form a bevel in the top face of Hall as taught by Eyre et al for the purpose of Eyre which is to enable additional hardfacing that results in extended use.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 10,11 and 13 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
